

Ben Ackman

Fall 2024 Portfolio

Born and raised in Jersey City, New Jersey, Ben Ackman is currently studying at American University in Washington, DC. He has explored many areas of photography, including street, concert, fine art, and esports. In doing so, he has shot in varied environments, including basements, convention centers, nightclubs, the National Mall, and all across New York City.

Having gotten his start in visual arts from machinima and 3D art, Ben is inspired by CG art and animation. His photography is often characterized by expansive negative space, bold splashes of saturated color, and expressive texture.

Most recently, Ben provided photo coverage at major esports tournament Defend the North X and worked as a photographer during his internship at Washington, DC nonprofit Friendship Place.
